WARNING

The appearances of this adapter and Toyota 17Pin SEMI-CIRCULAR adapter are exactly same, however, the internal wiring and circuit are different. Check the engraved name and the body color of the adapter carefully before use. Improper adapter connection may result in serious malfunction of either control system and MULTISCAN plus head unit

9. Subaru 9Pin Adapter (P/N. 3001-0022)

Used for the communication with Subaru cars of OBD generation 1.

The vehicle side DLC is generally located beneath the dashboard.

10. GM Daewoo 12Pin Adapter (P/N. 3001-1002)

Used for the communication with Daewoo cars of OBD generation 1.

The vehicle side DLC is generally located beneath the glove box, door side.

11. Kia 6Pin Adapter (P/N. 3001-0003)

Used for the communication with old Kia cars of OBD generation 1. Only the Diagnostic Trouble Code reading function is available for the cars with this type of adapter as only the slow pulse signal is transmitted through the vehicle side DLC.

The split wire of the adapter is to be connected to the ground terminal of the vehicle side DLC.
